

M4.30 - Integrating the biowikifarm into ViBRANT authentication

Rationale: In order to make a cross-cutting editing between ViBRANT-Scratchpad and ViBRANT-biowikifarm users practical, a joint authentication system needs to be established. This will require the collaboration with WP1, JKI has little expertise in this area.

The Milestone was finished with slight delay, which was due to incompatibilities between software versions necessitating an update to the most current version of mediawiki (1.20.2) which was released only 2012-12-04.

The OpenID-based mechanism is now established for a core mediawiki, the GBIF/ViBRANT terminology platform. It is documented at http://terms.gbif.org/wiki/Help:Login_using_OpenID